RAK ICC Corporate Identity Guidelines

1.0 Introduction

Our goal at the RAK International Corporate Centre is to become the leading hub for international businesses in the UAE. Our logo and visual identity are designed to help us achieve this.

The aim of this branding is to help the organisation stand out and to give us an edge in this competitive market. In order to achieve this, however, it is imperative that we use the logo and design principles in a consistent manner, in every situation; this includes presentations, advertising, events or any other type of communication.

These guidelines have been developed to ensure that our new identity is applied consistently and correctly. It will give you the tools to properly communicate our brand in printed and online materials.

2.0 The Logo

Our logo is the key element of our corporate brand. Consistent application of the logo strengthens the company identity in all areas of business and communication. The logo should be used for all general marketing materials, including brochures, direct mail, presentations, sales sheets, sales communications, advertisements, events, emails, etc.

The logo should be used on all formal business documentation, including contracts, terms and conditions, invoices, pay checks, purchase order forms, etc.

2.2 Logo Usage

Our logo should always be printed in colour with a white background. If printing restrictions apply, there are corporate colours and additionally black and white versions. The colour versions are provided as a four-colour process and RGB.

The black version and the white version may be used for black and white communications, for example faxes and low resolution printing (press advertising).

Do not use any old or outdated version of our logo.

2.3 Exclusion Zone and Minimum Size

Give our logo some room. To maximise the impact of our logo, it must be clearly presented in every piece of communication we send out. You must apply the logo exclusion zone, or space, around the logo to help it stand out from other graphic elements. The exclusion zone is equal to twice the height of the 'R' from the logo. Nothing should appear within this space on any application.

For print, the minimum size for the regular logo is 15 mm width.

2.4 Things to Avoid

Do not place the logo on any background that makes it illegible!

Do not change the colour of the logo!

Never add a sub-name to the logo!

Do not distort or squash the logo!

Do not change the positioning of any part of the logo!

Do not change the colour of the logo!

Do not break the exclusion zone rule!

Do not place the logo on an image that renders it illegible!

Consistent use of our logo will give it more impact and strengthen RAK International Corporate Centre brand recognition. Incorrect use of our logo will damage our brand image.

The relative size and component parts of the logo must never vary and should never be redrawn. Always use the logo artwork provided. The logo should always be clear and visible and should never be placed onto a background that makes it difficult to read.

The correct colour palette should always be used – see section 4.0 for colour specifications. The colour reproductions in this document are not accurate. Do not use this document for colour matching. Use the CMYK colour swatches for colour matching on press.

3.0 Typography

Typography, as an element of corporate identity, plays an important role in marketing and communications. Any well-planned corporate identity will include a corporate font and directives regarding its use. By using the same typeface for all of its communication, an organisation delivers a uniform visual message, which reinforces the image and impression created by the logo.
